Invertigo is excited to bring you Dancing Through Parkinson's first full-length, full-on, full-of-heart online dance class!

"We still need to dance! Parkinson's doesn't stop just because the world does." With those words in our hearts, we have moved quickly and thoughtfully into the world of online classes. Dancing Through Parkinson's has always been about finding joy together, and that is precisely what we will continue to do. This is the beginning of many ideas we have for this program. We hope you'll support the efforts to bring them to life, and most importantly, we hope you'll dance with us.

Although we can't dance together in person, we can still dance through the social distance. Join our DTP teaching artists Rachel Whiting, Haylee Nichele, Heidi Buehler, and Kelsey Ang from our community sites in Tarzana, Venice, Beverly Hills, Culver City & Inglewood!

Stay tuned for more exciting updates. If you'd like to support this exciting new initiative, please donate here.

Our first DTP online class is made possible through the generous support of Linda Berghoff, Susan Sokoloff and the the Rotary Club of Beverly Hills.

Jodi Lipschitz and Madison McCann

At the beginning of March, USC Graduate students Madison McCann and Jodi Lipschitz spent a week with Invertigo's Dancing Through Parkinson's Program as part of their externship for their Occupational Therapy program. We loved having them with us for a week of fun, creativity and learning. Read their blog post on their experience and how it impacted their understanding of Occupational Therapy here.
