

Learning Never Stops!

We want to take a moment to thank our funders and donors who continue to support our vision and mission. We are able to do this work because of you. Invertigo strongly believes that everyBody can dance and the learning never stops!

Invertigo team deepening into Equity

Since its inception, Invertigo Dance Theatre has done its best to be an equitable and welcoming space for all who've come across it. We continue to learn and know that there is space for growth in these times when growing edges must be encouraged to spread further. We are in motion, digging deeper into our work. Our Invertigo family is taking next steps with the understanding that learning never stops, that anti-racism is crucial, and that genius can come from all corners of our team - staff, dancers, board members, and community members. We are taking a dive into our administrative and artistic practices surrounding engagement with each other, our community, and our partners. We know that this kind of work starts with us. Send us all the positive vibes as we take this journey. Anti-Racism work creates space for discomfort, joy, and expansion, and all of these are necessary for the changes we want to see in our greater artistic community.

We have listed some resources to important movements like Black Lives Matter on our Linktree here.

LE STAFF :)

We got the LACDAC grant!

Happy to announce that our Dancing Through Parkinson's program has received a LACDAC grant for the next two years! The DTP program is supported, in part, by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors through the Department of Arts and Culture, and we couldn't be prouder. Our incredible community of dancers give us their all week after week, and it's so wonderful to know that we can continue to do this work thanks in large part to funders like LACDAC. Congratulations to the entire Dancing Through Parkinson's team - participants, teachers, and supporting staff. It's all possible because of you.
